- Campaigning for the preservation of North Maluku's endemic birds.
- Biodiversity-related actions by Burung Indonesia in villages. In Kao Village, for example, approaching the community through casual conversations about biodiversity, educating the community by learning more about the different types of mangroves found in the village for future regeneration, and bird watching with a ecotourism concept.

Fransisca Noni T presented the second material for 15 minutes, which included:

The final material was delivered by Akhmad David Kurnia Putra for 15 minutes, the material presented included the following:

- North Maluku has avifauna potential.
- A profile of biodiversity in the Wallacea region (Maluku region).
- Reasons to observe migratory birds: There is little information about migratory birds in North Maluku, and most people are unaware of the benefits of migratory birds.
- Locations of migratory birds seen: Kastela Beach, Lake of Tolire Besar, Muara Kali Oba, Sofifi speedboat port, Bacan, Teluk Kao are just a few examples.
- Difficulty: If a migratory bird stopover becomes a tourist attraction, observers must look for the newest migratory bird stopover.

The event continued with a question and answer session and discussion, with 9 people asking questions. The discussion ranged from the reasons why birds are becoming extinct to opportunities for collaboration between academics, the bird watching community, and the Burung Indonesia Association to solve the problem of threats to bird species.
